Carmel Artists Sell

$1000 Worth of Work

Over $1000 has been realized for Carmel artists through sales of pictures at the Carmel Art Association Gallery since April, and the establishment of this home for local creative output has more than justified the expectations of its sponsors.

Art patrons have taken the work of Wm. Ritschel, Armin Hansen, Wm. Watts, Burton Boundey, Ferdinand Burgdorff, Wichliffe Covington, Percy Gray, J. L. Culbertson and Elizabeth Strong, and the mark set may well stand alongside that of any other gallery on the coast.

Not the least important in this accomplishment is the strict judging of pictures entering the exhibits, thus attaining the high standard which has brought forth praise from the most critical observers.

At a recent meeting of members it was decided to hold Friday evening forums, beginning June 22nd, in order to bring artist members and associate members into closer relationship. It was announced that substantial payments had been made upon the building fund, and that the summer season would be inaugurated with a non-jury exhibit commencing June 16th, replacing the present water color show which has been so excellently attended.

Visiting hours will continue to be from two till five, afternoons, and appointments may be made for morning viewings if desired by phoning Mrs. Nellie Montague, curator of the gallery, at Carmel 327.

NEW MOVE ADVANCES PENINSULA HOSPITAL

Another move in the creation of a general hospital out of the Velie Metabolic Clinic was observed in the action of the Title Insurance and Trust Company of Los Angeles, trustee of the Clinic Corp., in petitioning the superior court of that city to let it relinquish right to appoint a majority of the Clinic directors, as provided by by-laws of the Clinic, and thus place the control in peninsula hands.

Matters are moving rapidly to a climax in the making of an institution of great public benefit of the Clinic through adding surgical facilities and putting it on a Class A, open-staff basis to be operated at cost, and in the recent fund drive nearly $15,000 was raised.

Technical difficulties have of course arisen, and John E. Abernethy, Henry Dickinson, F. P. Howard and Joseph Schoeninger, chosen by the Donor's Committee as prospective directors of the hospital, have wisely attempted to straighten these difficulties step by step to insure stability later on.

Peninsula doctors and public alike are anxious to get the additional facilities installed and to open this splendidly equipped building, and those active in furling the idea are meeting this week to make definite decisions on the several critical points that remain to be cleared up.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS WARNING BY DOCTORS

Carmel has no cases of infantile paralysis, and doctors do not look upon the region as favorable to epidemic conditions such as might exist in hotter, drier climates, but in view of the epidemic of this insidious disease in the south and the anticipated influx of tourists here certain precautions must be taken to insure Carmel as much immunity as possible.

Any unexplained fevers should be carefully watched by the family physician, and it is far better to call him and share the responsibility than to wait for development of the second stage of the malady. Its early symptoms may be no more than fever, sore throat, headache or any of the innumerable common ailments, but when an epidemic is known to exist elsewhere it is common sense to have expert observation of the patient.

Immediate rest and freedom from contact with other persons insofar as possible are recommended in the bulletin distributed to doctors by the combined forces of the American Medical Assn., the Special Committee on the disease, and by state and county health authorities, and doctors locally state that they are equipped to anticipate any contingency that may arise. The public must of course help in reporting suspected cases and securing treatment.

Spreading of information concerning infantile paralysis is an important phase of the combat against it, and should no more be taken as something to frighten people than any other normal precautions of daily life.

Ida Maynard Curtis, well known Carmel artist, is leaving this week to go to Ojai, California, where she will spend the summer season.

CHANGE OF ACT ASKED BY SANITARY TRUSTEES

The Trustees of the Carmel Sanitary District are submitting to the County Supervisors a petition bearing over thirty signatures of Carmel property owners, asking that the Sanitary District be put under the modern State Sanitary District Act of 1923, in place of the Act of 1891 under which the local trustees have tried to work.

American Legion Post Will be Formed Here

Carmel is going to have an American Legion Post. At a meeting last Monday night in the Manzanita Club, thirty-five Legionnaires and friends met to consider all angles of the idea, with James Regan temporary chairman, O. W. Bardarson secretary and Gabe Burnett, treasurer.

Charter for the post cannot be had until late Fall, and in the meantime it will be called the American Legion Club of Carmel, and will take over the Manzanita Club except on those nights when the Manzanita Club members meet. It was stated that there are already forty-six legionnaires living in and about Carmel, and that over a hundred can be counted on for membership. Impetus was given to the affair by presentation of a check for $500 by Col. Kinney, of Pebble Beach, he being a member of American Legion Post No. 1, of Paris and long active in Legion welfare.

The thought of a separate post in Carmel met with some opposition in an earlier meeting, both by Monterey members of Peninsula Post No. 41 and by local men, but complete accord was evident in the

HEART FAILURE TAKES LIFE OF ARTHUR STORY

Death came to Arthur Story through a heart attack last week as he and Mrs. Story were preparing to enter their summer work in the Santa Barbara National Forest, where Story held position as ranger. For the past several years he had been in and about Carmel, and had taken part in social affairs including the Drama Readings at the Pine Inn. His training and experience on the stage, notably with the Chicago Little Theatre with Maurice Browne, made him especially valuable to local students of the drama, and he had planned to give a series of full length play readings during the coming seasons.

He was English-born and was a graduate of Cambridge, and served during the world war with the Canadian forces.

Blue Eagle's Birthday

Just a year ago tomorrow the magic letters NRA appeared in the news of the country and became a national slogan. No other movement received such wide recognition nor was so heartily received by a people anxiously awaiting a sign that would show them the way out of the depression of both mind and pocketbook. NRA did just that. NRA pointed the way. Enthusiastically acclaimed and heartily endorsed, the NRA Blue Eagle spread everywhere. In newspapers, shop windows, theatres and in advertising.

For a while everybody talked of and displayed the Blue Eagle. We were on the road to recovery, the NRA our guide. Today we are a year older and are a year closer to more normal times, but what of the Blue Eagle? He has become a bit of rarity. One no longer sees him on his red and white background posted in every store and all prominent places.

Now it is a year after NRA showed us the way, and let us remember the date tomorrow by displaying the sign as we did before and pause to think if, after all, we are following the idea behind the NRA or if now that we are attaining a small measure of prosperity we are letting the shadows of personal desire cloud our vision of national prosperity and welfare. Let us hope not the latter.—R. C.

Trustees Give School Budget for Next Year

Discussion of the Sunset School annual budget took the major part of the regular meeting of the Sunset School Trustees last Tuesday evening, and some forty persons interested in local educational activity were in attendance. There was considerable discussion about the proposed bond election for $20,000 coming on June 26th, and among points settled was that concerning the responsibility of the trustees for safety of school children in case the bonds did not carry and the proposed strengthening of the buildings against earthquake stresses could

DATE OF LIQUOR SUIT HEARING NOT YET SET

The suit by Mrs. Robert Leidig, of Carmel, against the Carmel Development Company to quiet title on her property at Dolores and Ocean, is in the hands of lawyers and date of hearing in Salinas before Judge Jorgensen has not as yet been reported.

This legal action is being watched with much interest because it is one of the first attempts in California to test the strength of liquor restriction clauses in land deeds, such restrictions being nearly universal in Carmel, having been contained in the Carmel Development Company deeds from the creation of the town in 1903.

"INCHLING" PRESENTED BY DOUGLAS STUDENTS

"Inchling," a musical fantasy by Rem Remsen, was presented by the students of the Douglas schools last week, under direction of Byington Ford, assisted by Ruth Austin and Molly Murphy. It had been planned to stage the play outdoors, but inclement weather made it necessary to move indoors.

Among those in the large cast were Mary Jane Ford, Mary Wilkins, Jean Wilder, Sally Warner, Fred Skeetop, Katharine Wilkins, Mary Morse, Peggy O'Melveny, Eleanor Green, Mary Williams, Jane Anderton, Carol Morris, Patsy Ford, Betsy Hunter, Tom Wilder, Elizabeth Henry, Stuyvesant Fish, Mary Jean Stirling, Phillip Hatton, Ruth Goode, Audrey Ford, Polly Hunter, Jane Hiscock, Billy Boeig, Glenn and Wilfred McCuskey.

The large audience received the play enthusiastically, and many of those present were also in attendance when "Inchling" was originally staged in the Forest Theatre under direction of its author.

SALINAS RODEO SEEKS FINEST OUTDOOR GIRL

Entry blanks for the Finest Outdoor Girl in California contest may be had by addressing the California Rodeo, Inc., at Salinas, and it is hoped that a large entry list will be forthcoming. Qualifications will include household accomplishments, education, ability in dramatics, dancing and music, and she must be sponsored by a public or semi-public organization.

MRS. LEWIS TO PRESENT IRISH LORE

A reading of Irish folk lore will be given and Irish folk songs will be sung by Mrs. Ruth Lewis at the All Saints parish room Monday, June 18, at 2:30 p. m. A similar performance by Mrs. Lewis was enthusiastically received by the Woman's Club during the winter. The program to which the public is invited, will be followed by a silver offering.

LEGION DANCE RAISES LARGE FUND FOR CORPS

One of the most successful benefit dances in recent years was given by Monterey Peninsula Post No. 41 of the American Legion last Saturday night at the Old Monterey Polo Club, attracting nearly a thousand guests and clearing well upward toward $1000 for the Drum Corps and clubhouse building fund.

Guest of honor was Mary Pickford, and she was kept busy signing autographs for the innumerable admirers who all but crushed her table against the wall as they stood ten deep about it. Later she spoke on the balcony microphone and expressed pleasure at being able to assist the Legion, and was followed by Mrs. Sidney Fish, sponsor of the evening and hostess to Miss Pickford during her stay on the peninsula.

The slogan of "come early and stay late" was acted upon wholeheartedly, and it was not until noon Sunday that the clean-up detail of veterans had the hall back to normal. Commander James Finley tournaments and not long ago thanked all who had taken part, won the Professional Golfers' title, and said that it amply showed the esteem the Monterey championship drum corps is held in.

MONTEREY GOLFER WINS NATIONAL OPEN TITLE

Olin Dutra, the smiling big golfer who was born and raised in Monterey, became national open golf champion last Saturday in Ardmore, Pa., carding 293 for the four rounds of competitive play under difficult conditions of combined heat and heavy winds, managing to nose out the famous Gene Sarazen by one stroke, and to defeat others such as Bobby Cruickshank, Wiffy Cox and Harry Cooper, all ranking high in national listings.

Dutra learned his game on the Del Monte links, following in the footsteps of his older brother, Mortie, and after taking position of professional at Pebble Beach and improving his play by many strokes he went east and became professional at a prominent club. He has been in the money at many

CARMELITES PRESENT AS SOVIET CONSULATE OPENS

A number of Carmelites went to the official opening of the new Soviet Consulate in San Francisco last Tuesday, an event of much splendor that attracted a large number of guests.

Among them from here were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rhys Williams, Ella Winter, the Misses Kleinschmidt, Nina Vanikoff and Langston Hughes.

KUSTER TO PRESENT*"COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW"

Elmer Rice's well known "Counsellor-at-Law", one of the "best ten" in its New York season and a big hit last year in San Francisco, will be the Golden Bough Players' offering at Carmel Community Playhouse, July 6th, 7th, 13th, and 14th.

This fine play, with its rapid tempo, large cast and whirlwind changes of scene, will test the abilities of staff and players as has no other play since "Beggar on Horseback." So, at least, declares Edward Kuster, producing director, who commenced rehearsals a few days ago of the longer roles. There are, in addition, over a score of short and colorful character parts—the play is a cross-section of life in a busy New York law office, and the director declares his desire to initiate a considerable number of new people to the Carmel stage. Applications and suggestions may be sent to Mrs. M. V. B. Adams, Secretary of the Golden Bough Advisory Council, at Box 823, Carmel.

Fra Junipero

The human side of Father Junipero Serra is well shown in a letter that he wrote in 1769 at San Fernando mission concerning his first contact with Indians in Lower California. Word was brought to him that a small group of natives approached, and he welcomed the opportunity to make friends with them.

"I went out immediately," he writes, "and there met twelve of them, all of them men, and tall with the exception of two who were mere boys, one about ten years old and the other about sixteen. I saw then that which I had read about and could never scarcely believe, that these men went about as completely naked as was Adam in Paradise before he had sinned.

"So they went about and so they presented themselves, and during the long time we were treating with them, though they noticed that we were dressed, they did not seem to have the least particle of shame an appearing before us naked.

"I placed my hand, as a sign of affection, on the head of each and filled their two hands with dry figs which they immediately began to eat. We also received, with every sign of appreciation, the gift which they presented, a net of mague fiber and four fish, rather large and very handsome, but as the poor fellows had not taken the pains to dress them and as much as salt them, our cook said they were no longer serviceable.

"Fr. Campa also presented them with some figs. The Governor gave them tobacco in the leaf, and all the soldiers showed them kindness and invited them to eat with them, and through the interpreter I made them understand that there would remain there permanently one of the Fathers, and that his name was Father Miguel and that they should come together with the rest of the people to visit him.

"They were to let the word go out that they were not to be afraid nor suspicious as the Father would be their friend and that those soldiers who were to remain there with the Father would do them much good and no harm; but rather in case they were in need to come and ask the Father and he would give them what they asked whenever he could. All these observations they received with satisfaction and made signs to show they assented to everything so that it seemed to me the time was not far away when the apostolic net could be cast and the people evangelized."

Harry Downie, who resides at the Carmel Mission and has done much of the recent construction thereabouts, brought to light the foregoing letter, as well as a great deal of historic data translated from the original records. He is a deep student of early California history, particularly that dealing with Serra, and is fortunately located here to further his researches.

A bouncing baby boy weighing 8 lbs., 13 oz. was born at El Adobe hospital last Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Artellan of Carmel valley. The boy has been named Benjamin Artellan Jr.

"GOING SOME" TO BE*FOREST THEATRE PLAY

The Forest Theater production of "Going Some," to be produced through the joint efforts of the Forest Theater Society and the Carmel Community Players on less things connected with play July 4-5-6-7th., will take full advantage of the outdoor stage to present this swift-moving college drama with its western background.

In the past the theater has been ideal for pageants and other spectacular pieces, and now the famed Carmel cowboys will for the first time appear before audiences on horseback. Whatever slight changes needed to adapt the play to these forest surroundings have been made by Director Don Lee, of Hollywood, and in this he has received assistance from Wheat, 1st week end, there will be a Har-who starred in the Broadway production and who is a fellow member of the Maskers Club in the south.

The large cast and ambitious sets will require the presence of many workers, and invitation is extended to any and all who wish to join in this most interesting summer occupation, whether on stage or doing any of the numberless things connected with play production. It is suggested that persons get in touch with Paula Dougherty, by phoning 133-R, or Mrs. A. T. Hyde, at 130, or Eugene Watson, at the Carmel Press, or Herbert Heron, at the Seven Arts, and learn details of the idea. This will appeal especially to the many younger people in town. The next Forest Theater play thereafter will be August 2-3-4-5th changes needed to adapt the play and may possibly be a revival of an early original play first presented on that stage. Later in the season, perhaps over the September received assistance from Wheat, 1st week end, there will be a Har-who starred in the Broadway production and who is a fellow member of the Maskers Club in the south.

gether in closing the outdoor drama season with something that used to be an annual event in Carmel.

Casting of "Going Some" is now being done, and by next week the list will be made public and rehearsals will be under full headway.

ITALIAN TRAVEL TALK BY STONE ON THURSDAY

George Stone, Carmel teacher and travel lecturer, gave a most entertaining evening last week when he presented his illustrated talk "Off to Galapagos We Go" in the Denny-Watrous Gallery. Motion pictures could scarcely have been more vivid than the colored slides, and certainly no talking picture could have excelled Stone's running descriptions and comments.

For two hours the audience traveled through the islands of the group, dipping into prehistoric days with their monstrous animals and strange plants, even their volcanoes that ran to the sea and turned the waves into steam. Careful work on sequences built up the lecture from the standpoint of human interest as well as drama, and accounted for the large audience of last night when he presented "The Charm of England," a feature that will be reviewed in next week's edition.

This coming Thursday June 21st he will offer "The Spirit of Italy," and in the making of it he was particularly fortunate in privileges granted by the Italian government whereby he photographed galleries in Rome and in Florence and will bring to the screen their greatest works of art.

Seating arrangements in the Denny-Watrous auditorium have been carefully planned in order that all may see clearly; acoustics are good, and under Stone's trained guidance the spectators travel to far countries with comfort and security.

Prices are quite reasonable, and reservations may be made at the gallery by calling Carmel 62.

CLASSES IN CITIZENSHIP COMPLETED BY MRS. WHITE

The Night School Class in Citizenship finished the course for the term last Tuesday, and on Thursday evening Mrs. Willis White entertained the members of the class composed of French, Scotch, Swiss, German and Filipinos in her home at Camino Real and 9th.

She showed them pictures of historic places in the United States, and also pictures that she had collected in Europe, and following this refreshments were served.

Through Mrs. White's influence and training, ten adults of Carmel have applied for citizenship during the present year.

POSTMASTER URGES CARE IN ADDRESSING OF MAIL

Postmaster Irene Cator reminds the public that in order to have the best possible service it is necessary to use care in addressing mail, particularly in regard to the box numbers. Several delayed deliveries have resulted when persons new to town have taken a box and the address has not indicated this, so that the mail was put in general delivery to await being called for. Proper stamping and sealing is of course necessary, but the matter of addressing, with the summer season and its influx of strangers nearly here, is something that requires particular care.

UPTON SINCLAIR CLUB FORMED ON PENINSULA

An Upton Sinclair-for-Governor Club has been formed on the Peninsula, and at a recent meeting Mrs. Grace Plank was elected president; Mrs. Emeline Hopkins, secretary, and Ernest Bixler, treasurer.

Addresses were given by Mrs. Mae Curran, and by Miss Mae Bigg-Wither, who were brought before the gathering through the efforts of Mrs. Dorothy Biglund. Much interest is being shown in the movement, and Carmel women are taking a leading part in fostering work which may put a writer in the executive chair at Sacramento.

Ross Keister is planning seriously on going to Honolulu soon. Mr. Keister is a great admirer of the islands, having spent several years there.

The wedding took place June 1 in the Trinity Episcopal Church of San Jose, with the Reverend Mark Rifenbark reading the service. Only members of the immediate families were present. SUPERIOR RECORDINGS
Reviewed by
T. Harold Grimshaw

An altogether unusual and thrilling new album is announced on Victor's June list of recordings in the form of a tone-poem entitled "Transfigured Night" (Verklärte Nacht) by the modernist Arnold Schonberg. The composer is a problem man and unclassifiable though his music is often of a Wagner-Strauss cast—Wagnerian broad majesty and Straussian in color effects. The above tone-poem, whilst an early work is so compellingly interesting and so gorgeous in complex harmonies that the hearer is left breathless. It is exceedingly thoughtful music and laden heavy with passion. The orchestra is the Minneapolis Symphony and the recording is of the best. Victor Masterpiece Album M-207. Four records.

The name of Frederick Delius is not well known in America, but in England he is revered as a composer of some very delightful music. Delius is the type of man who paints in delicate style and with the most exquisite colors. A fond lover of nature in her quieter moods, I should judge. Just now we are offered the Idyl: "On Hearing the First Cuckoo in Spring." The title is key to the man. Done fittingly by the London Symphony on a ten inch disc which bears the number 4270.

DATE IS POSTPONED

gory," the Golden Bough Players' prize tournament play, will be postponed from June 29th to a later date in the summer.

SAN JUAN TO HAVE HISTORIC PAGEANT

The historic town of San Juan will celebrate the 137th anniversary of the founding of Mission San Juan Bautista on June 23rd and 24th with a long list of events which will delight persons accustomed to attending this annual merrymaking, and will attract an unusual number of newcomers.

Saturday evening will feature a grand ball, and on Sunday there will be masses, followed by the famous historic parade. Then the barbecue at noon, the horse show directly afterward, and then the afternoon presentation of the Pageant, which will be repeated during the evening.

Tradition during the past six years of pageantry, under general direction of Father Francis J. Caffrey, M. M., has established a momentum upon which the entire to practice before the State Bar of California the same year. He is now, and for the past three years has been, junior member of the Law Firm of Bardin, Harrington and Bardin at Salinas.

POLITICAL NEWS COMMENT

He is a Democrat in politics, and is now a member of the Democratic State Central Committee.

The descendant of sturdy pioneer stock given to agricultural pursuits in the Salinas Valley since the early fifties, his environment and all the influences touching his development have been closely related to the soil.

He is possessed of a frank and pleasing personality and is an engaging and forcible public speaker. His eloquent plea in behalf of young Thomas O'Doud, charged with the murder of Frank Wallingford at the Alpine Inn at Gonzales, about two years ago, stamped him at once as a young lawyer possessing a rare gift of force and eloquence.

If elected to the office he seeks, he promises to use all his talent and ability in helping to bring to his Assembly District as many worthy legislative measures as could be reasonably expected of anyone holding so important a trust.

With the spontaneous support his candidacy has already inspired from Democrats and Republicans alike, and counselled and advised by sober and intelligent thought as he will be if elected, and gifted with an active and keen understanding of justice and right, and the ability to "deliver the goods," his advent into the political arena is one of more than ordinary interest.

RUSSELL OUT FOR POLITICAL OFFICE

Charging that certain members of the State Board of Equalization have used their appointive powers to create a political machine and have made grievous errors in their official duties, Hartley Russell, who is a Native Son of San Francisco, and recognized as one of the leading tax attorneys in the West, has announced his candidacy for election as a member of the Equalization Board from the first district, which includes San Francisco, San Luis Obispo, San Benito, Monterey, Santa Cruz, Santa Clara, and San Mateo Counties. Russell announces that 18,000 friends interested in his candidacy, have already pledged him their support.

Russell is the son of the late Chief Stephen D. Russell, one of the revered heroes of the San Francisco Fire Department, who was killed while fighting a disastrous blaze in 1917. Russell is Grand Third Vice-President of the Native Sons, and a member of the Elks, Moose, Eagles and the Olympic Club. He saw active sea service during the world war.

J. E. STEINBECK ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR TREASURER

J. E. Steinbeck, treasurer of Monterey county has formally announced his candidacy for re-election.

A resident of Monterey county since 1886 and of Salinas since 1900, Steinbeck was appointed to the office of treasurer in 1923 by the supervisors to reorganize the treasury at a time when it was disorganized. He has brought about a high degree of efficiency in the county's financial business, his friends point out.

He was reelected over two opponents in 1926 and returned to office without opposition in 1930.

During 135 months of Steinbeck's incumbency, $28,795,389.35 has been received by the treasury, according to figures from the county auditor's office. Through careful and judicious moving of the money, Steinbeck said, his office has earned in interest for the county $300,560, or $16,000 more than enough to pay the combined salaries of superior judge, county clerk, recorder, tax collector, county superintendent of schools, surveyor, treasurer, assessor, auditor and coroner. "Those salaries have been made in interest on public money and without one cent of cost to the tax payers."

During Steinbeck's incumbency, his followers point out, the office of treasurer has been conducted efficiently, economically and courteously. Ray Talley of Salinas, a man with three years of banking experience, is the efficient deputy to the treasurer.

In submitting his name for re-election, Steinbeck intends to continue the county's business in that way, he said.

OYER IS CANDIDATE FOR CONSTABLE

Of unusual interest in political circles on the Monterey Peninsula is the announcement of Frank Oyer that he is a candidate for the office of Constable of Monterey Township.

He is the son of the late William A. Oyer, formerly Sheriff of Monterey County and later Chief of Police of the City of Monterey. He is a native of the Monterey Peninsula although he received his education in the Salinas schools, graduating from the Salinas Union High School, later attending Santa Clara University. Upon leaving the university he came directly to Monterey where he has since made his home.

Because of his close association with his father in the latter's work as a peace officer he is familiar with the duties of the office he is seeking, in civil as well as criminal lines, and if elected he pledges he will serve the people of Monterey Township to the best of his ability and strive for efficiency in the work of the office and will give every duty he is called upon to perform his diligent and prompt attention.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
"God the Preserver of Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, June 17, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "As birds flying, so will the Lord of hosts defend Jerusalem; defending also he will deliver it; and passing over he will preserve it" (Isaiah 31: 5). Other bible citations will include: "I have set the Lord always before me; because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved" (Psalms 16: 8).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science textbook,

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is the creator of man, and, the divine Principle of man remaining perfect, the divine idea or reflection, man, remains perfect . . . The relations of God and man, divine Principle and idea, are indestructible in Science; and Science knows no lapse from nor return to harmony, but holds the divine order or spiritual law, in which God and all that He creates are perfect and eternal, to have remained unchanged in its eternal history" (p. 470).

THE COAST HIGHWAY AND CARMEL

An active summer is forecast by pre-season holiday week ends and by the large number of house rentals and reservations reported by the real estate offices. But busy as the summer may be, it will not be a marker to the rush that will come this way when the Coast Highway is open to tourists next year.

All manner of activity will result when motorists can reach this famous village by driving along one of the most spectacular routes in the world, and likewise all manner of precautions must be taken to anticipate what the influx will do to the normal routine of town life. Police protection will need extensive increase, particularly on the arterial roads going through town, and the services of public institutions such as the library, the art gallery and the theatres will be taxed to their limit.

Merchants can well get in training on the coming summer's visitors and then figure double the business next year. With an admixture of energy and common sense the influx can be ably cared for and not destroy the jealously guarded Carmel-different atmosphere, and right now is none too soon to lay plans to achieve that end.—W. J.

CREDIT

Week by week more and more merchants have the complaint that in many cases it is the man who can afford to pay who is the hardest to collect from.

True it is that the man with money frequently fails to see that the small merchant must be paid promptly in order that he remain in business. In the midst of plenty, it is no always easy to visualize the needs of others not so fortunate.

Particularly is it necessary for the small merchant to keep up his collections just now when wholesalers and jobbers are usually placing him on a strict thirty or sixty day basis. Another point that most of us often forget!

It is difficult for the merchant to approach the wealthy customer and ask for payment, because the merchant knows that the money will be paid "some day." Furthermore, he realizes how small the amount may seem to the customer, and does not wish to embarrass him by mention of the sum. If one of us has been thoughtless, let's begin to THINK.

Another class of "poor pay" customers

EVENING EBB

The ocean has not been so quiet for a long while; five night-herons
 Fly shore-long voiceless in the hush of air
 Over the calm of an ebb that almost mirrors their wings.
 The sun has gone down, and the water has gone down
 From the weed-clad rock, but the distant cloud-wall rises—
 The ebb whispers.
 Great cloud-shadows float in the opal water.
 Through rifts in the screen of the world pale gold gleams, and the evening
 Star suddenly glides like a fixing torch
 As if we had not been meant to see her; rehearsing behind
 The screen of the world for another audience.

—Robinson Jeffers
 In "Dear Judas"

MOONLIGHT NIGHT: CARMEL

Tonight the waves march in long ranks
 Cutting the darkness with their silver shanks,
 Cutting the darkness and kissing the moon
 And beating the land's edge into a swoon.

—Langston Hughes

CRAFTSMAN

The chisel of the wind has chipped the sea.
 It is hammered and silvered;
 Blossoming fairly at the blue edge.

The great hand of the wind has smoothed the hills
 The grass flames at its touch
 Where stern height meets the sun.
 The spirit of the wind flares up the canyon
 Leaping into cloud-forms
 That curl backward
 Over the dark brow of the mountain.

The wind has carved its rhythm on the dunes;
 Has drawn its lines of laughter on the sand,
 And twisted the trees to suit its fancy.
 With sensitive touch

It forms and possesses the land,
 And marks its every mood upon the sea.
 The wind is the master-craftsman of the earth.

—Dora Hagemeyer

are those who won't or cannot. The average merchant soon eliminates the "won't pay" man from his roster; takes his loss with a smile.

But the man who wishes to pay and cannot, becomes embarrassed at the sight of the merchant to whom he owes money, changes to another merchant, and so on. The average merchant appreciates your business if you are sincere and will pay when you can. If you sincerely want to pay, don't desert the merchant who has trusted you. Stay with him, pay him when and as you can, and he will stay with you.—F. B.

AMERICAN LEGION

The formation of an American Legion post in Carmel will at last become a reality through persistent efforts of local veterans, most of whom have been members of Monterey Peninsula Post No. 41 for a number of years. With nearly fifty of them living in and about Carmel, and upward toward a hundred eligible for membership, there will be a fair-sized roster from the start and there is every prospect that the venture will thrive.

It must not be looked upon as a break in the Carmel tradition of disapproving service and other standardized clubs, any more than the Masons should be disapproved, but rather as a distinct benefit to the community. In times of disaster the Legion is in front line of service, and its ordinary duty to the community extends to all corners of civilian activity.

An interesting connection is the tie-up between the Carmel American Legion Club, as the group will be called until it gets a charter later in the year, and the veteran Manzanita Club regarding a headquarters here. The veterans will take over the club house on south Dolores Street and run it as their own except for certain meetings of Manzanita members, thus assuring a ready-made home that meets all requirements and gives ample opportunity for expansion as the membership increases.

The energy shown by Legionnaires from Carmel in the peninsula post over the hill will be directed into local channels, and we may well depend upon them as individuals and as a group to sustain American ideals and to further good government without becoming violently partisan in politics nor being swayed by transient isms and cults.

Legionnaires—Carmel salutes you!—W. J.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

MOIRA WALLACE, the young Carmel artist whose murals in Del Monte and San Francisco are attracting so much attention, returned to Carmel from her city studio for a short vacation recently.

"Murals—big murals—are what I want to do for a life's work," she said. "There is a chance that I may do a huge one in the municipal auditorium, and you can imagine how thrilled I am at the prospect of such an ambitious piece of work."

Among her latest product is the Spirit of Music in the main ball room of the Mark Hopkins Hotel. A panel measuring nearly twelve feet square, it forms a background for the orchestra platform. In its creation, she had to work under confusion of orchestra practice, Junior League rehearsals and similar distractions, with occasional advice from critical onlookers. But Moira is a sincere worker and accustomed to going right ahead regardless what handicaps the situation may present, and the result fully justified the confidence the hotel people had in her.

She studied with Armin Hansen

when she was a youngster here, and Gloria Stuart, a close friend, then took a season in the East, re- was in her court of honor, and that turning to take a course in San Francisco and then to join the Foster and Kleiser staff of advertising gaining fame in the metropolis.

artists, being by far the youngest of the lot. Coming back to Carmel and opening a studio here, she concentrated on portraiture, followed by the commission to do the Del Monte Grill over into the Bali Room, with noteworthy results. San Francisco has been her home for the past year.

It will be recalled that at the artist's ball, the Parilia, earlier this year, Moira was the Empress, need for Edward Kuster's services

FOLLOWING Edward Kuster's production in San Francisco of "Beggar on Horseback," "Sister Benvenuta" and his own version of "Karl and Anna" entitled "The Interloper," the local producer can be justly proud of the following comment of Claude LaBelle, dramatic editor of the San Francisco News, "There is a distinct need for Edward Kuster's services to Little Theaterdom. Since Sam Hume left town and Irving Pichel found the flesh-pots of Hollywood savory as far as salary goes, there has been little important non-commercial production in this vicinity except that which Kuster has sponsored."

FLORENCE TERRY'S pottery flowers are unique in Carmel art. We have had flower paintings in nearly all mediums, done with absolute fidelity, and, at the other extreme done so modernistically that only the title told the subject. Now we have flowers that take on qualities of sculpture, plus color. They could even have perfume, if it were wanted.

"My early training," said Miss Terry, in her Ocean Avenue studio, surrounded by materials, "was in art with a strong leaning toward color. I have always been a student of botany and of course the two began combining and have done so ever since. A few years ago I began working with these flowers, in miniature, and the range of work they offer makes the field practically limitless."

From cactus to roses, from pansies to lilies, on and on, and now in full size for the smaller specimens; colored with the delicacy of the fragile original here, and with bold contrasts of another there. Despite the term pottery, the flowers are not fragile at all, but are created from a secret mixture that gives great durability. Colors are in tempera, and prolonged exposure to intense light has shown them to be fadeless. The little pots that some are "planted" in are made especially to Miss Terry's design, and these make interesting table favors, while the larger groups in ornamental settings serve for center pieces.

Around the walls are many examples of earlier paintings and water colors of plant and insect study, some showing text-book workmanship for study classes. Gift and greeting cards in pen and ink and color pencil show further versatility, including landscapes that are typically Carmel.

"In the pottery flowers," she said, "the petunias are the favorites. I get never-ending delight in watching children enthuse over the little groups of varieties assembled in some imaginative manner, such as around the miniature lake over there."

ANNA KATZ has returned to Carmel, and is being welcomed by her many friends. Up to two years ago she had one of that group of "Cute little shops" opposite Pine Inn. She came to Carmel from Hollywood where she had been costuming stars of the silent screen and with her friend Tilly Lazar opened the studio Gown Shop above Pinafore Playhouse, specializing in peasant dresses.

Miss Katz was forced because illness to leave here and after a year in New York has returned in good health. She is Russian, having come to this country when she was but fourteen. She will have a dress shop in conjunction with Jackson's in the new location on Ocean Avenue.

The purpose of said meeting is to discuss and vote upon the conveyance of the property known as the Forest Theatre, owned by said corporation, to trustees, for the benefit of the corporation.

ROBLES DEL RIO HAS MODERN DIVING BOARD

Among other improvements to facilities of the Robles Del Rio Inn since W. R. Mawson became manager is the installation of a Brandsten Intercollegiate Diving Board at the swimming pool. The new diving board is the same as is officially used in the Olympic games, being automatically controlled to give uniform spring, regardless of the weight of the diver.

The Robles Del Rio pool is heated uniformly to 70° at all times, and was recently tiled to permit thorough vacuum treatment each morning in order to make it as sanitary as possible.

Additional rooms have recently been added, and meals are served at all times. Rates are low, and, according to Mr. Mawson, the Inn is growing in popularity with local residents and visitors alike.

Robles Del Rio is a fifteen mile drive up the Carmel Valley.

Mrs. Edith Jensen of Monterey was a visitor in Carmel on Wednesday.

Hectic Days Sleepless Nights

IF YOU are nervous today, you probably will not sleep well tonight. If you don't sleep well tonight, you will probably be nervous tomorrow.

Don't allow yourself to become nervous. Take Dr. Miles Nervine. It will relax your tense nerves and let you get a good night's sleep.

Irritability, Restlessness, Sleeplessness, often lead to Nervous Headache, Nervous Indigestion, Hysteria—sometimes to a nervous breakdown and organic trouble.

Some of the people, whose letters are printed below, were as nervous as you are—possibly more so—yet they have found relief.

Three years ago I was so nervous I could not bear to go out in company and could not sleep nights. A friend recommended Dr. Miles Nervine. I now enjoy myself thoroughly and sleep every night. Miss Juliette Currier, New Market, N. H.

I have used Dr. Miles Nervine in liquid form and find it the best medicine for the nerves I have ever used.

Christene Lanier, Middleton, Tennessee
Whenever I have over-indulged and feel restless I take one or two Nervine Tablets just before I retire. In the morning when I awake I feel like a new person and can go about my work as usual. Dr. Miles Nervine Tablets quiet your nerves, brace you up and are the simplest, most convenient tablets to take I have ever found. Miss Grace Redmann, St. James, Minn.

Before using your Nervine I was very nervous and irritable. Since I have started to take it I feel so much better that my family notice the difference. I still take it from time to time and the good result is wonderful. J. H. Redding, 1027 18th Ave., Rock Island, Ill.

THE VILLAGE NEWS-REEL

T. Harold Grimshaw, whose comments on new phonograph music are run in the Pine Cone under title "Superior Recordings," writes from Stockton to say that the Conservatory of Music in the College of the Pacific, with which he is connected, is enjoying a very busy summer season.

"Practice begins at seven," he relates, "and there is an abundance of concerts, recitals and plays of one sort or another. In August we expect to renew our happy acquaintance with lovely Carmel."

Mr. and Mrs. Hurd Comstock, and Mrs. Comstock's young sons, Max and David Hagemeyer, are motoring northward along the Redwood Highway on a vacation of three weeks with a destination of Sproat Lake, Vancouver Island, British Columbia. The region is celebrated for its natural beauty, and the lake itself is a fisherman's paradise.

Mrs. Alice Josselyn, long a Carmel resident in the Eighty Acres, celebrated the approach of her seventieth birthday last Saturday by attending the American Legion Barn Dance at the Old Monterey Polo Club, staying well into Sunday morning, the anniversary day.

Marian Todd has returned to San Francisco to continue her studies after a vacation of two weeks spent with her family in the Santa Lucia Street home. For many years she has been outstanding in local dramatics, and her recent residence in the north has robbed the Carmel Community Players and other groups of her talent.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schaffner, her brother-in-law and sister and their young daughter, are now settled in their Stamford, Conn. home, having remodeled an old farm dwelling in its sixty acres of surrounding woodland. Richard Boke, brother of the girls, had to return to New Mexico, where he is employed in the federal Soil Erosion Commission, cutting short his expected stay of some days further; public is cordially invited to attend the services. Church school is hereabouts for some weeks to at 9:45, and in the evening from 6:30 until 8:00 there will be the great deal of travel, and since he took the position last fall he has driven 55,000 miles.

Calista Rogers, the well known singer of Lieder and of unusual modern songs, has come to Carmel to spend the summer and will open a studio for teaching and coaching. Miss Rogers sang the second soprano solos in the Music Society's production of Rossini's Stabat Mater last March and will also be remembered for her interesting recital at the Denny-Watrous Gallery three seasons ago. In addition to teaching doing her stay here she will be busy preparing programs for next season and she will give a series of three recitals at the Denny-Watrous Gallery.

Edith Heron, the well known Monterey watercolor artist, returned recently from an ocean voyage that included several South American countries while en route to New York, and later a tour of England and Europe. At present she is having an exhibit at the Oakland Auditorium Gallery, largely composed of work that resulted from her trip, and show dates will extend from June 15th until July 4th.

Miss Marjory Pegram, for eight years a resident of Carmel and active in the life of the village, has returned after a year's absence and taken a house with friends opposite All Saints Church on Monte Verde. During her absence Miss Pegram wintered in Florida, attended the Mardi-Gras in New Orleans and made an extensive motor trip in the Middle-Western and Western States. She has recently been in Hollywood for a month.

Services Sunday at the Community Church will include special musical numbers, with a solo by Porter Andrews Sessnik, "Enough To Know," and a duet by Gertrude Bardarson and Miles Bain, "Blessed Saviour Thee I Know," by Nevin. Miss Emeline Harrington will speak on "The Roots of Power," and the public is cordially invited to attend the services. Church school is hereabouts for some weeks to at 9:45, and in the evening from 6:30 until 8:00 there will be the great deal of travel, and since he

After four years at the Katharine Branson school at Ross, Valentine Porter, daughter of Mrs. Valentine Mott Porter of Carmel, was graduated last Friday morning. She received the honor of the silver cup for Latin poetry. Miss Porter is remaining at school taking the college board examinations and plans to enter Radcliffe College in the fall for which she has been awarded a scholarship. She will spend the summer in Carmel with her mother.

MADAME ORLOVA SPEAKS ON "NEW CIVILIZATION"

Many Carmelites drove to Pacific Grove last week to hear Madame Barry Orlova in her lecture on "The New Civilization" in the High School auditorium. It will be remembered that she spoke in Carmel earlier in the season on the topic "Russia Yesterday and Today," and made a most favorable impression upon her listeners. Introduced by Senator E. H. Tickle, she said that today the world is in one of the greatest eras in its history, one out of which a new civilization will emerge with almost limitless possibilities before it. Spiritual force, she insisted, is now something which can be measured, and as never before will be an influence in the formation of the future life.

Mme. Orlova is a world traveler and observer of international events, and well qualified to give impartial opinion upon present economic conditions.

CHRISTIE CONCERT TO OPEN SUMMER SEASON

The chart at the Denny-Watrous Gallery is rapidly filling with names of subscribers who have selected their seats for the Carmel Music Society Summer Series which will open in a brilliant concert by Winifred Christie, pianist, on Tuesday evening, June 26, in the Sunset School Auditorium.

Winifred Christie is not only a pianist of internationally recognized attainments, but she has an added fame as the exponent of the Moor Double Keyboard Piano, which instrument she will play in her recital for the Music Society on the twenty-sixth.

Emmanuel Moor, the husband of Winifred Christie, invented the Double Keyboard Piano in 1921. So great was the opposition to this improved piano that Mr. Moor had to make his first model by hand with the help of two carpenters. Incredible difficulties were surmounted. Unable to make minute measurements with the proper machinery which "big business" refused to let him use, Mr. Moor clung with the faith which every real inventor has to his idea, and the "double keyboard piano" was evolved. Over a number of years he worked to perfect it, and the present instrument, which Mme. Christie will play on the twenty-sixth, is as beautiful as the early dream.

It is interesting that Beethoven, Liszt and Chopin saw the limitations of the piano, and foretold the double keyboard. Schumann had a tendon of his hand cut in order to reach over the octave, and invented a pedal piano, one of which Winifred Christie's brother owned. All that Schumann dreamed of and Liszt prophesied is realized in the Moor Double Keyboard Piano of Mme. Christie's. On it she has played with all the major orchestras of Europe under the baton of Bruno Walter, Mengelberg, etc. She has played as a concert artist with the greater symphonies of the United States, toured with the Boston orchestra and given distinguished solo recitals in Carnegie Hall. The following criticisms are indicative of her art:

"Pianism of the superior type put forward by Winifred Christie at her recital in Carnegie Hall last night, would have attracted unusual attention under any circumstances. But her satisfying art aroused extra interest because of the fact that it was conveyed on the double keyboard. . . . A more beautiful singing touch. . . is rarely at a pianist's command. And never in the most thunderous fortissimo was it permitted to lose an iota of its pure mellowness. . . ."

—New York Evening World.
". . . A hearing of Miss Christie's . . . program called attention to the assets of Mr. Moor's modifications, the notable sonority obtainable with the increased range obtainable by the coupling device, and the simplification of certain technical problems, such as repeated notes, passages calling for the crossing of hands, wide-ranging figures, etc."—New York Herald Tribune.

CARMEL BUSINESS SECTION ENDORSES SUMMER MUSIC

More and more Carmel is realizing what it means for so small a village to have a concert series, an orchestra, and a quartet just as though it were a metropolitan city. So impressed are some of the substantial business people of the town that they have voluntarily written their appreciation of the Carmel Music Society. Mayor James Thoburn heads the list:

"I feel that the Music Society is one of the institutions that make Carmel what it is—and that it should be supported to the limit by local and business people."—James H. Thoburn.

"The Carmel Music Society has a great influence on the artistic and financial life of Carmel. The immediate plan of the Society will not only bring to Carmel artists of national renown, but it will rent our houses, buy our groceries and will contribute largely to the commercial prosperity of the village and its merchants. Those who are alive to the future prosperity of Carmel should certainly make every effort to help the Carmel Music Society in this very worthy undertaking."—Daisy Bostick.

"The Society's objective should have the support of everyone who is interested in the cultural advancement of our community. It seems to me that no one could advance a logical objection to giving support to those who are striving so earnestly and faithfully to keep this organization going."—J. L. Schroeder, Carmel Realty Co.

"Since 1927 the Music Society has given concerts, and I know the people of this community have enjoyed every one of them."—Conrad Imelman, Imelman's Sportswear.

"The Music Society is a Carmel institution and does much toward the development of our community. It deserves the full support of the business interests as well as those interested only from a musical view point."—E. H. Ewig, Ewig's Groceries.

"I believe that the merchants of Carmel should back the Music Society one hundred percent."—K. C. Goold, Carmel Cleaners.

"I know the merchants of Carmel appreciate what the Carmel Music Society has accomplished in this Community and I heartily endorse them to continue their success."—D. L. Staniford, Staniford's Drug Store.

PEACE OFFICERS MEET HERE IN CONFERENCE

Carmel was host last Tuesday evening to the conference of the Coast Counties Peace Officers Assn., when the group of thirty members assembled at the Pine Inn for dinner and speeches. Among notable Carmelites attending it were Mayor James Thoburn, City Judge George Wood, Councilman John Catlin, Police Commissioner Robert Norton and ex-mayor John Jordan, as well as police officers August Englund and Chas. Guth.

An address on narcotics and their relationship to crime, and the restraint of narcotic traffic was given by ex-Senator Young of Los Gatos, and the lantern slides accompanying it made for clear understanding of the subject. Y. Smith Stange, recently connected with the New York police department, demonstrated a new style handcuff for which many merits were claimed.

The evening was in charge of president Sheriff Abbott of Salinas; and the gathering one month hence will take place in Santa Cruz.

OLGA AND SIDNEY FISH LEAVE FOR LONG ISLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Fish, of Carmel Valley, left yesterday for Easthampton, Long Island, where they will spend the next three months in their seashore home. Return here will be made in time to enter their son, Stuyvesant, in his Santa Barbara school by mid-September.
